Mike Channon of Newark found the flag on the front cover while renovating one of the business blocks on Depot Street. The century-old flag was found in an old steel chest. Lyndonville Electric hoisted the folded flag between two aerial trucks. The 46-star American flag dates back to “between 1907, when Oklahoma was the 46th state added and 1912, when New Mexico became the 47th state”. Just another piece of Lyndonville’s history uncovered.
